A mailing list is maintained for readers who have a recurring requirement for a hard copy edition of the report.

Mineral Revenue Collections

- Content:

The report provides royalty, rent, bonus, and other revenue receipts from Federal and Indian mineral leases. Four reports are prepared annually addressing each of the following periods:

- January - March;
- January - June;
- January - September; and
- January - December.

The reports address revenue collections in the current period and compare collections with revenues from similar periods 1 year ago. A one-page Executive Summary explains reasons for increases or declines in revenues. The report is divided into the following four chapters:

- National Summary Chapter: Summary of revenues by land category, revenue type, and commodity; and
- Federal Offshore, Federal Onshore, and Indian Chapters: Royalty, rent, bonus, and other revenue information by commodity and State.

- Time Frame for Report Information:

Revenue collection information is provided by calendar year to conform with industry standards.

- Report Distribution:

The report is published quarterly, normally 45 days after the close of the quarter. The first edition was published in May 1997.

As the Nation's principal conservation agency, the Department of the Interior has responsibility for most of our nationally owned public lands and natural resources. This includes fostering sound use of our land and water resources; protecting our fish, wildlife, and biological diversity; preserving the environmental and cultural values of our national parks and historical places; and providing for the enjoyment of life through outdoor recreation. The Department assesses our energy and mineral resources and works to ensure that their development is in the best interests of all our people by encouraging stewardship and citizen participation in their care. The Department also has a major responsibility for American Indian reservation communities and for people who live in island territories under U.S. administration.

As a bureau of the Department of the Interior, the Minerals Management Service's (MMS) primary responsibilities are to manage the mineral resources located on the Nation's Outer Continental Shelf (OCS), collect revenue from the Federal OCS and onshore Federal and Indian lands, and distribute those revenues.

Moreover, in working to meet its responsibilities, the Offshore Minerals Management Program administers the OCS competitive leasing program and oversees the safe and environmentally sound exploration and production of our Nation's offshore natural gas, oil and other mineral resources. The MMS Royalty Management Program meets its responsibilities by ensuring the efficient, timely and accurate collection and disbursement of revenue from mineral leasing and production due to Indian tribes and allottees, States and the U.S. Treasury.

The MMS strives to fulfill its responsibilities through the general guiding principles of: (1) being responsive to the public's concerns and interests by maintaining a dialogue with all potentially affected parties and (2) carrying out its programs with an emphasis on working to enhance the quality of life for all Americans by lending MMS assistance and expertise to economic development and environmental protection.
